

Two Thomas' bring us Home

Merton and Keating on Where and How

Auckland and Hamilton

Thomas Merton clearly articulated notions of the false-self and where to find the real Self, the Divine in ourselves. Since then, Thomas Keating has clearly articulated how to heal the false-self so that the true Self is experienced within.

This experiential two day retreat is an opportunity to learn from these two contemporary mystics and to make their wisdom relevant to our own 'Fourth and Walnut Streets'. We will do this with input on who Merton was what he thought and who Keating is and what he thinks, experience their spiritual practices, have lectio divina with their writings, individual reflection on relevance for us today and group discussion.
